Yanks Drive Yard by Yard Into Cherbourg Defenses

Hole Blasted in Line by Plane and Cannon Assault

By The Associated Press
SUPREME HEADQUARTERS ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE, June 24—U. S. doughboys smashing yard-by-yard deep into the powerful outer shell of the Cherbourg port this morning within 2,000 yards—little more than a mile of the port on the south, and "enemy defenses show signs of crumbling," a field dispatch declared.

An American spearhead punctured the stubborn, interlocking Nazi pillbox defenses southeast of Oteville, the fortress southwest of Cherbourg, after a pulverizing air and artillery bombardment, Associated Press Correspondent Don Whethead said in a dispatch written at 9:15 a. m. today (E. S. M. E. W. T.).

Headquarters said the doughboys fought forward slowly and had all but reached the sea on both sides of the beleaguered port in hand-to-hand struggle with Germans resisting fanatically. The assault troops are battling "within sight of the docks," supreme headquarters said.

Whethead wrote that 1,200 prisoners have been taken in the last 24 hours, and that the Cherbourg line had become a "death trap" for hundreds of Nazis who refused an allied ultimatum to surrender and were slain in the fighting.

and now are within a short distance of the north coast on both sides of the fortress."

Nazis Admit Line Broken
(Berlin radio this morning said after several hours of heavy fighting the Americans had broken into the outer defense zone in the south and southeast, but asserted they were stopped there. It declared "no less than eight infantry and two tank divisions" had been "thrown into the assault."

(The German communiqué today acknowledged that Americans had captured a number of strong points and made further progress toward Cherbourg. Local attacks were repulsed elsewhere in Normandy, and Nazi coastal batteries "scattered" an Allied landing unit east of the Arne river, the high command added, with naval units sinking a 3,000-ton Allied landing vessel and a destroyer.)

The roaring attack on Cherbourg went into its third straight day with progress being measured in bloody feet from pill box to pill box against elements of four Nazi divisions.

Progress was slow. There was no let-up in the American attack.

The battle became a struggle for one strong point after another. It followed the monotonous, deadly pattern of first an artillery barrage and then an infantry assault with hand-to-hand fighting to take a pillbox, to gain 20 yards, and then repeat the process.

American positions along the city varied in depth and meant little as long as the Germans fought with the fierceness that characterized the struggle thus far.

Within Sight of Docks
Supreme headquarters said Lt. Gen. Omar N. Bradley's infantry was fighting within sight of the docks—Cherbourg's greatest prize.

At last reports, two key fortified hills south and west of the city still were in German hands, but the German-controlled Vichy radio said the Americans had driven through German defenses to Fort De Roule, less than a mile from the docks.

Falling winds and bright sunlight in the English channel permitted much more rapid unloading of supplies and allowed use of Allied air superiority in support of the invasion. Yesterday had weather held the Allied air forces to 3,000 sorties directed at Nazi rail and road communications.

The Allied supreme command said another German division commander had been killed in the fighting. He was Gen. Salley of the 91st division.

Besides the 91st division, elements of the 243rd, 77th and 709th German divisions now have been identified in the peninsula trap. Supreme headquarters said there were indications that only isolated pockets of German resistance were left on the eastern and western tips of the peninsula, and these are being cleared up. The main force of the attack is being directed at the port itself.

In the La Haye Du Puits sector, 24 1/2 miles south of Cherbourg, American patrols found resistance had strengthened considerably.

At last reports the Germans had launched a counter-attack and a tank battle was raging between Ste. Honorine and Cuverville, a mile and a half southeast.

Along the rest of the front there was nothing new to report.

Today's Fifth War Loan Scoreboard in Marion County

Goal $3,365,000.00
Sales Yesterday 27,861.25
Previous Sales 386,825.50
Total to Date 414,686.75
Yet to be raised 2,950,313.25

Sales to date include $330,900.25 in E bonds, 40 per cent of the county's $819,000 E bond quota.

BOUGHT BONDS YET? 6,539 PERSONS HAVE

E Total Now $330,900 or 40 Per Cent of Quota.

A total of 6,539 Marion county residents have laid money on the line for E bonds in the Fifth War Loan to date, and their purchases amount to $330,900.25 or a shade over 40 per cent of the $819,000 E quota, drive headquarters reported today.

Even though the E sales have been averaging better than $20,000 a day, it appeared likely that E sales would again be the problem child of the Fifth War Loan, as in the last drive. Leaders emphasized again that unless the quota is reached, they can not regard Marion county's campaign a success even though the other departments of the drive go far beyond their quotas.

Individual purchases of E and G bonds so far have amounted to $414,686.75, including $27,861.25 added to the total by yesterday's business. Individuals' purchases represent 12.3 per cent of the $3,365,000 overall goal of the county.

The complexion of the drive will be changed drastically over the week-end. Today's report is the last one in which only the individual sales will be reported. Beginning Monday, corporation and business purchases that have been made throughout June will be counted into the drive totals, and the figures, except for E bonds, will soar.

Nine more bond sales totaling $468.75 were turned in yesterday by workers in the residential drive, which virtually ended last Tuesday. However, other reports are expected daily until all callbacks have been completed and every Marion family has been given an opportunity to buy extra Fifth War Loan bonds.

Ohio E Bond Sales 32 Per Cent of Quota

CLEVELAND, June 24—The sale of war bonds in Ohio's Fifth War Loan drive totaled $238,430.654 through Friday, 22.1 per cent of the state's $1,077,000,000 quota, Percy Brown, executive vice chairman of the statewide loan campaign, reported today.

Brown said Ohio "probably is leading the larger states on the basis of percentage of bond sales quotas."

U.S. SUB BLASTS JAP CARRIER

Believe 28,000 Ton Ship Sunk by Three Torpedoes in Philippines Sea.

By The Associated Press
U. S. PACIFIC FLEET HEADQUARTERS, PEARL HARBOR, June 24—A new 28,000-ton Japanese aircraft carrier was believed today to be at the bottom of the Philippines sea—latest reported addition to the disaster which beset Nippon's navy when it hesitantly tried to stay the impending doom of Saipan's garrison.

An American submarine rammed three torpedoes into the vitals of the costly Shokaku class fast-top Sunday and the Navy, disclosing the action last night, conservatively stated "the Japanese carrier is regarded as probably sunk." Sunday was the day Jap carriers made a costly, long distance attack on the U. S. invasion fleet at Saipan.

The Navy already had announced that American carrier planes, giving chase to the enemy fleet Monday, sank four enemy ships, including a 19,000-ton carrier, and damaged 10 other ships, including a battleship, two 10,000-ton carriers, a light cruiser and a cruiser. Last night's communiqué added a fifth ship, a destroyer, to the carrier and three tankers previously listed as definitely sunk.

More Ship Losses
Increasing Japan's shipping woes, Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced today his bombers probably sank an enemy merchantman and destroyed five coastal vessels off northwestern Dutch New Guinea. Yesterday the Navy in Washington reported supporting his public assertion that he was not interested and did not believe it ever would be offered to him.

Other vice presidential possibilities include Lieut. Command. Harold E. Stassen, whose friends say he would have it; Rep. Everett Dirksen (R-Ill.) and Gov. Simon Willis of Kentucky.

Al Landon, who once ran for president himself, said there was a great deal of talk about "re-warding" Bricker with the vice presidential nomination—if he fails to get the first place designation his friends still think will come to him—for the strenuous campaign efforts the Ohio governor has made as the only avowed major presidential candidate.

Cites Bricker Friends
Landon insisted he had no personal interest in the matter, but he told a reporter he was satisfied Bricker had made more friends than almost any other campaigner in recent years. Landon openly is supporting Dewey for the presidential nomination.

Dewey took the attention away from what many called a middle of the road foreign policy declaration with a message yesterday to the platform committee accusing the Roosevelt administration of an abuse of power and proposing that the "next administration" should take second place

On the other side of the aisle, intimates of Bricker said he had refused even to discuss the possibility of taking second place

Warren and Bricker mentioned, but Both Say They Are Not Expecting Nomination.

By The Associated Press
CHICAGO, June 24—The Republican vice presidential nomination appears today to be going temporarily begging with two of the most discussed possibilities—Gov. Bricker of Ohio and Gov. Earl Warren of California—maintaining steadfastly that they are not considering or expecting it.

So strong had become the presidential hotel lobby gossip to the effect that Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York has the inside track for the presidential nomination that knots of delegates spent much of their time discussing the lack of a hot vice presidential contest.

Warren will not arrive until Sunday to testify in what looks like the appearance of a contest among those who are certain that he will place designation if it is offered to him.

RED DRIVE TIES IN WITH ALLIED BLOW ON NAZIS

Grand Strategy Sends Soviets Plunging 75 Miles from Latvian Border.

By The Associated Press
MOSCOW, June 24—The Red army, in a new central front offensive that was an integral part of allied grand strategy, rolled westward in spectacular fashion today and reached points only 75 miles from the Latvian border.

The Russians battled swollen streams and considerable mud northwest of Vitebsk, where they pushed upon Polotsk 32 miles away.

Reports from the Finnish front were that the new offensive had retracted nothing from the drive toward Helsinki and the liberation of the Leningrad-Murmansk railway. Progress was reported in all the fighting areas, with the Finns apparently still unable to hold the weight of Russian armor and infantry.

Southeast of Vitebsk on the central front where the Russians have been across the highway from Vitebsk to the German-held fortress of Oshana, the Red army surged forward and cut the railway which parallels the highway. It moved in the general direction of Minsk.

No Railways Open
Operations in this sector across the Nazi communications appeared to be outflanking Vitebsk so badly the big Nazi garrison has no railways into the city.

(The German radio said the Russians, using 11 divisions, have broken into German positions on both sides of Vitebsk, and that "heavy fighting goes on with the Russians attempting to encircle the town.")

Military observers here point out this probably is the first phase of Russia's summer offensive, recalling that last winter Stalin drove swift feints in several directions, then struck home with his main blow.

Soviet troops plunging nearly 10 miles through the German defense belt northwest and southeast of Vitebsk in white Russia inflicted enormous losses on the enemy, Moscow announced.

Part of Allied Strategy
A broadcast Russian communiqué, detailing first gains in the new offensive that rounds out the United Nations strategy from the west, south and east, said yesterday's attacks cut the last railway line connecting German troops at Vitebsk with the rear.

Artillery and aircraft battered Nazi fortifications for several hours, then "in the wake of a wall of fire" Red army infantry began the attack, the Russian communiqué said.

There were the immediate gains listed: Seven and one-half to nine and one-half miles on a 18-mile-wide front.

Hottest Hit Areas
Hardest hit Pennsylvania communities outside the Pittsburgh area were the mining towns of Clarksville and Chartiers in Greene county, approximately 40 miles south of here.

Virtually every house in Chartiers, visited only two weeks ago by a mine explosion and fire that killed six men, was leveled. There were eight known dead there and between 40 and 50 homes destroyed.

"The destruction in Chartiers is almost unbelievable," said Stanley Granger, collector of internal revenue at Pittsburgh who lives in nearby Waynesburg. He added: "The entire town appears to have been leveled."

More than 400 were believed injured in Shinnston, W. Va., and three surrounding counties and ambulance drivers, frantically trying to get over blocked roads up Shinn's Run, near Shinnston, said they had reports of bodies along the roads.

Upon orders of Gov. Matthew M. Neely, four companies of West Virginia state guardsmen went into the devastated area.

Power was supplied to the stricken area by emergency service from Parkersburg but nearby Clarksville, West Virginia's fourth largest city, had no power until well into the morning.

Corridors of one of Clarksville's hospitals were filled with injured sent there after emergency treatment at Shinnston. Scores also were sent to Fairmont, 15 miles north. The Shinnston Methodist church was set up as an emergency aid station.

Many Reported Missing
A survey in West Virginia showed more than a score of people reported missing and indication the death toll might exceed 100 in the mountain state alone. Reports were slow coming in from isolated communities, paralyzed by failure of facilities and with highway arteries clogged

95 Killed in W. Va. and 35 More Die in Pennsylvania

By The Associated Press
PITTSBURGH, June 24—Mounting reports of death and destruction in the tornado which tore with ruinous fury through parts of Pennsylvania and West Virginia sent the death toll to at least 130 today while more victims were sought in wrecked communities.

In West Virginia, the death list stood at 95 and in Pennsylvania at 35, with hundreds injured and many others homeless along a narrow twisting path mainly in rural areas.

Maryland state police reported that possibly 15 additional persons had been killed and many injured when the storm which broke at nightfall last night hit Garrett county, just across the West Virginia line. Landslides hampered relief crews.

Red Cross workers at Pittsburgh estimated the damage would run into millions of dollars.

Skirting the southern rim of the city of Pittsburgh the wind lashed with great fury into the suburbs of McKeesport, Pa., a city of nearly 60,000, then cut a swath southward 100 miles to Shinnston, W. Va.

In its wake, hundreds were left homeless as whole blocks in some communities were leveled, hospitals were filled with hundreds of injured persons and power and communications lines were blown down.

The Red Cross immediately sent disaster relief crews into the stricken areas with blood plasma, medical supplies, food and cots for the injured and homeless.

Civilian defense organizations and military police and army medical corps units from Pittsburgh and other cities worked side by side with local police, fire and relief agencies.

Devastation was terrific. Striking at nightfall, the storm trapped many families in their homes. Through the night, rescue workers dug by the light of flashlight and torch to extricate the bodies of the dead and injured from the ruins.

The storm was described by A. D. Johnson of McKeesport as a "white, whirlwind shape" that came roaring across the city, then leaped the Youghiogheny river and traveled south.

"I saw at least a dozen houses blown right off their foundations," Johnson said. It was estimated at least 100 homes in the McKeesport area were demolished completely and hundreds more unroofed or damaged.

Don Potter, Monongahela, W. Va., power company manager, said: "It was a regular Kansas blower, funnel-shaped with limbs and sticks floating around in its middle. It was a steady green color and lazy looking. The time was 8:31 p. m. That was evil-later because a lot of clocks stopped at that time."

Larry Allen Tours Naziland Under Eye of German Guard

ROAD TO FREEDOM—On the march illustrated above, it seemed Larry Allen was on his way to freedom. But he was en route to a German prison camp. Now, he is in America, writing of conditions inside occupied Europe.

By LARRY ALLEN
Associated Press War Correspondent. Recently repatriated from a German Prison Camp. (This is the last of three articles.)

I was kept in a cement isolation cell for 24 hours on black bread and sickening watery soup. I was taken from Moosburg to an American officers' camp. Oidag 64, in the southern tip of the Polish corridor, south of the Baltic sea. I remained there until May 8 when I was informed I was soon to be sent home and was transferred temporarily to an internment camp at Laufen in upper Bavaria.

During the trip from the Polish corridor, I traveled through many of the bombed cities of Germany. On May 15, I left the dungeon-like internment camp at Laufen and began the long train ride through western Germany down through France to Marseilles and the Red Cross repatriation ship, Graciosa.

Not until I set foot on the neutral soil of Spain did I breathe the clean air of freedom. Then I looked up at the clear blue sky through tear-dimmed eyes and said: "Dear God, how precious is liberty!"

Larry Allen, a German, wrote a note to the commandant protesting my treatment as a non-combatant prisoner under the Geneva convention. Finally, after a week, I was transported through the Brenner pass into Moosburg, west of Munich, the "grand central terminal" for all incoming prisoners of war.

20,000 Prisoners
There, under extreme conditions of filth, I found 20,000 prisoners of 19 different nationalities.

Polls Give Dewey the Lead As First Choice for Presidential Nomination

By GEORGE GALLUP
Director, American Institute of Public Opinion.

PRINCETON, N. J., June 24—With the Republican party national convention due to convene Monday, Republican voters in the Mountain section of the country continue to name Governor Thomas E. Dewey their first choice for the G.O.P. presidential nomination.

The governor's popular support in these three sections, comprising a total of 24 states, is shown in surveys in which field reporters questioned those voters indicating a preference for a Republican president next year.

Their preferences for the nomination are shown in the three sections as follows:

PACIFIC COAST SECTION
(Oregon, Washington, California)
Thomas E. Dewey 63%
John W. Bricker 6
Harold E. Stassen 6

MOUNTAIN SECTION
(Mont. Ida., Nev., Utah, Ariz., Wyo., Colo., N. Mexico.)
Thomas E. Dewey 54%
John W. Bricker 7
Harold E. Stassen 5

SOUTHERN SECTION
(La., Miss., Ala., Ga., Fla., Tenn., N. C., S. C., Ky., Va., Okla., Texas, Ark.)
Thomas E. Dewey 50%
John W. Bricker 10
Harold E. Stassen 6

In today's survey, a total of 25 per cent of the vote in the Pacific Coast section, 34 per cent in the Mountain section, and 25 per cent in the South were cast for other Republican leaders, principally Wendell Willkie and Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

Delegate voting strength of the 13 Southern states is 219. The three states on the Pacific Coast have a total of 81, the eight states in the Mountain section a total of 73. The popular support of various Republican possible nominees will not, however, necessarily be reflected in the way the delegates from each area cast their final votes at the convention during next week.

Surveys in the four other principal sections of the country—New England, Middle Atlantic, East Central and West Central—show Governor Dewey first choice for the nomination among Republican voters there.

Too Many Hazards, Let Japs Have Island, Is Soldier's View

(The following, by Sgt. John B. T. Campbell Jr. of Los Angeles, a Marine corps combat correspondent was distributed by The Associated Press.)

SAIPAN, MARIANAS ISLANDS, June 18—(Delayed)—On the eve of the assault upon this island, a medical officer valued members of a Marine artillery unit together and warned them:

In the surf they must beware of sharks, barracuda, sea snakes, anemones, razor-sharp coral, polluted waters, poison fern and, of all things, giant clams capable of snapping on a man like a bear trap.

Ashore, the men must take precautions against leprosy, typhus, filariasis, yaws, typhoid and paratyphoid fevers, dengue fever, dysentery, an assortment of skin and eye infections, saw grass, scrub grass, a wide variety of insects, snakes, and giant lizards.

At the conclusion of his lecture the doctor asked if there were any questions. A private raised his hand.

"Yes," queried the doctor.

"Sir," said the private, "why don't we let the Japs have the island?"

WITH THE AMERICAN FORCES IN FRANCE, June 24—The Cherbourg peninsula, first major American battlefield of the war in France, is full of evidence of the violence with which the Germans were cut in two and part of their defense forces pushed back into the port of Cherbourg.

The towns they attempted to defend have been virtually obliterated. The wrecks of German tanks, guns and vehicles at on charged spots along the roadside. Reinforced concrete telephone poles have been smashed and broken, roads torn by bomb craters and marked by shell explosions.

The greatest devastation appears in towns such as Montebourg and Valognes which the enemy wanted to defend. Most of the buildings were pulverized.

The Americans haven't pulled any punches in the attack on the German defenders, which is one reason for the enemy fall-back into Cherbourg.

By CHARLES ELLIOTT
Marion Star Sports Editor

MARION'S 1944 Little Grand Circuit meet ended tonight with a dramatic finish, the fourth and final race of the meet, a 200-yard dash, which was won by the favorite, Peter H. Smith, in a time of 1:15.5.

Last night at the fairgrounds, the fourteenth and semi-final race of Frank Foster's polo production was won by some 2,000 fans. The race was a 200-yard dash, which was won by the favorite, Peter H. Smith, in a time of 1:15.5.

Smith's triumph was the first of his career in the 200-yard dash, and he was the only horse to win the race in the 200-yard dash. The race was a 200-yard dash, which was won by the favorite, Peter H. Smith, in a time of 1:15.5.

Smart Officially Tops Wayne "Curley" Smart of Delaware is officially the top driver in this year's meeting with 17 victories, the same number as was totaled by Gabe Cartwright last season. Smart is not scheduled to drive tonight but none of the night's skippering entries tonight has a record at all comparable with Smart's.

Miss Crusader won the first heat of the feature race by a length but Flash, who did anything but flash around the track, sewed up the race by margins of the final two entries by margins of a head and length. Miss Crusader led for most of the second heat but the Cartwright-driven Flash made a strong finish to take an exceptionally close decision in the last heat. Flash didn't wait until the last few hundred yards to take the lead and went ahead in the backstretch. Overtime made a bid in the backstretch but faded fast.

Peter H. won the first heat of the 200-yard dash, the second race, by a length and a half but was pressed in the stretch by Volomite, Jr. finished second in the event with three second places. Peter H., which had scored previous heat wins in the Marion meeting, won the second heat again by the margin of a length and a half. The third heat, 9-16 mile was taken by Smith's entry by eight full lengths. Silver X took the opening heat of the 19 pace by three lengths, the second by one-half length over Jack Mills. MARION HELD TO TWO HITS LOSES SECOND TO MIDDLETOWN 10-1

Locals End Series with Red Sox Tonight; Minnis' Streak Halted at 19.

Special to The Star

MIDDLETOWN, O., June 24.—Papa Horn, Red Sox hurler, limited Marion to two hits as Middletown defeated the Cubs, 10 to 1, here last night.

The hitting string of Viri Minnis, Marion outfielder, was snapped at 19 straight as he was held out in four plate trips by Pitcher Horn of Middletown. Minnis had a consecutive batting streak of 19 a week ago last Tuesday and was then held out because of injuries. He hit safely in his nineteenth contest in a row against Middletown Thursday night. His skin has not yet been battered in the Ohio State League this season.

Morrissey, Marion center-fielder, was the lone player to solve Horn's slant. He singled to left in the seventh for the first hit of the game and hit a wind-blown triple to right in the ninth to pave the way for the only run for the Cubs. The blow came with one out and Blunk fanned. Blunt was hit by a pitched ball for the second time in the game and stole second. Clayton grabbed Zedna's throw in an effort to catch Blunt and Clayton's wild throw to third in an attempt to trap Morrissey and the latter trotted home robbing Horn of a shutout.

Meanwhile the Sox rombed the slants of Randy Edwards for 10 blows in seven innings for a total of seven runs. Boones and Dyer were the main guns with men on the bases. Wildness also hurt Edwards' cause. Pace came along in the eighth and was nipped for three hits, along with two passes which were good for three rallies.

Following are the box scores and summary:

Scout Who Signed Jake Daubert Dies

Lawrence "Larry" Sutton, one of baseball's shrewdest and best-known scout league scouts, who discovered, among others, Jake Daubert, first baseman with the Marion team in the old Ohio-Pennsylvania league, died Thursday night at his home in Brooklyn, N. Y., home. He was 85 and a native of Oswego, N. Y. He never played baseball.

It was Sutton, who, at a total cost of $11,000, collected the 11 players who paced the Renobles to the 1916 National league pennant. In that array of talent, which he picked up here and there, were such stars as Casey Stengel, Jake Daubert, George Cuyshaw, Zack Wheat and Hy Alper.

Daubert, rated as one of the most accomplished first sackers in National league history, scored early experience in organized ball in Marion between 35 and 40 years ago. He was National league batting champion two seasons.

Allie Reynolds Seeking Eighth Win of Season

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, June 24.—Allie Reynolds will be gunning for his eighth triumph of the season when he steps to the mound for the Cleveland Indians against the White Sox here today.

The young right-hander, whose fireball pitching won 11 and lost 12 games for the Tribe last year, has a 7-6 record this season. He has dropped one contest to the Sox thus far—in last Sunday's doubleheader.

Al Smith turned in his first victory over the Chicagoans this season as the Tribe took a 5 to 1 game last night. He limited the Sox to four hits while the Clevelanders collected nine off Tomlin (Lefty) Lee and Joe Haynes.

Babe Zaharias and Dot Germain in Golf Finals

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, June 24.—Well on the road to stardom, Dorothy Germain of Philadelphia met up today with an old-time traveler on the same road, Babe Zaharias. They started out together in a scheduled 36-hole match for the women's Western Open golf championship.

When the nation's top war-time golf tournament for women opened five days ago, the two appeared destined to hook up for the title and nothing deterred them along the way, although yesterday's matches required some superb pressure golf before they battled into the finals.

HOW TO STOP FALSE STARTS. Veteran Penn track coach Lawson Robertson (left), demonstrates "electric gun" which won't go off unless all runners' fingers touch metal plates as fingers of Penn student Juan Llerena, Rio Du Janeiro, are doing. Marion Cubs Back At Lincoln Park For Dodger Game Sunday

Marion's ever-riding but slightly "abused" Cubs trolley back to the Lincoln park diamond Sunday afternoon for their first home game in two weeks. Opposition will be furnished by the Zanesville Dodgers. Starting time for the single game is 2 o'clock.

The three-game series with Jack Knight's Zanesvilians will mean a lot in the struggle of the Marion club to ascend from the Ohio State League cellar. The locals are currently wallowing in the loop bottom floor and the Zanesville team is in fifth place, but not out of range of the Cubs, whose playing edge may become noticeably keener on home territory.

Marion's road trip, which is scheduled to close tonight at Middletown, has done the local cause no good. In 13 away-from-home contests, not including last night's scheduled loss with Middletown, the Cubs absorbed defeat 10 times. The Cubs won three games, one from Lima early in the two-week circuit of the league and two from Springfield this week. These two victories over the Giants came after Sunday's game, Zanesville remains here for single games Monday and Tuesday nights. Middletown is here Wednesday through Friday and next Saturday, July 1, the Cubs once again angle with Zanesville, but this time at the latter's diamond. A doubleheader July 4 and a single July 5 are slated between Marion and the Lima Red Birds at Lima's Malloran park.

ISALY CLUB BLASTS METAL TEAM, 22-0

Isaly's Dairymen riddled 20 hits to score a 22 to 0 triumph over the Marion Metal Products team in a Commercial league softball game last night. This is the season's top victory margin in any of three softball leagues functioning—the Industrial, Commercial or Sunday School circuits.

Pitcher Murray went the whole route for Metal Products while Tony Caprino hurled top-grade ball for Isaly, limiting the Products boys to five hits while being as stingy as he could possibly be in letting runs in.

Seventeen of Isaly's 22 runs came in the third inning. This is one of the biggest spurges for one inning in the past several seasons in Marion softball. The Isalymen didn't get those runs by fluke means, either, totaling 13 hits in this single frame. Messenger, Robinson and Unger opened the inning with hits and Seavers broke the slugger momentum by drawing a walk. Ten more hits and Murray did the rest. Outside of this inning, the Metal Products' team played good ball.

The next regularly scheduled Commercial league games will be played next Thursday night with three contests on tap at the city parks.

Cubs Spoil Homecoming for Reds with 3-1 Win

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, June 24.—Seems like everybody's mad at the Cincinnati Reds these days. After an unprofitable road trip, which they ended with three defeats and only one victory at Pittsburgh, they opened up a home stay last night and the cellar-dwelling Chicago Cubs lashed them, 3 to 1.

The Reds outbit the Cubs, 9 to 6, as Clyde Shoun pitched good ball with the exception of the first inning.

Ohio Still Shows 'Indiana' Movie

Picture with Marion Scenes To Continue Through Tuesday.

"Home in Indiana," the technical color racing film now playing at the Ohio theater will be continued through Tuesday. The scenes are almost entirely shot on or near a racing track, including the one at the Marion fairgrounds, with Little Grand Circuit races forming the background for many of the scenes.

"Maudie Four," played by Miss Sarah Abbey, a real track champion owned by Walter J. Michaels of Bucyrus, has the leading equine role.

The story begins before the film is bred and carries her story up to the triumphant end of her racing career.

Robert Walker, Donna Reed and Robert Benchley Featured in Story of Basic Training Life.

"See Here, Private Hargrove," a gabby veteran of World War I starring Robert Walker, Donna Reed and Robert Benchley, will be shown at the Palace theater Sunday through Wednesday.

Adapted from the hilarious best-seller based on Army life, the story describes the first days of Private Hargrove at a basic training camp. Robert Walker plays the part of a young newspaper reporter who is drafted into the Army and takes with him his special ability for getting things wrong. He soon learns that he is not adaptable to Army ways. Everyone likes Hargrove but his buddies enjoy playing tricks on him. Mulvihill, played by Keenan Wynn, sells Hargrove a phony date with Donna Reed. Hargrove and Donna fell in love and Hargrove turns over a new leaf. Because of his improvement Hargrove is made an acting corporal but mistakenly delivers his squad to the enemy during the maneuvers. Meanwhile he has been gathering material for a book about his early days in basic training. He sells his buddies an interest in the book in order to get money to go to New York to see his publishers. His trip is successful. He is transferred with Mulvihill to public relations. On learning that their old squad is to be sent overseas they manage to be transferred back to join the squad.

Robert Benchley plays the part of the sergeant.

With the mayor leading the way, it is expected that several well-known Galion industrialists and business men will make similar offers.

The Galion Junior Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring the fourth annual Fourth of July celebration in Galion, and is highlighting the day's events with a gigantic drive for the sale of war bonds in connection with the

Army Life in Marion Film

"Thousands Cheer" To Be Followed by Mystery and War Drama.

"Thousands Cheer," starring Kathryn Grayson, Gene Kelly, Mary Astor and John Boles, will be shown at the Marion theater beginning at midnight tonight through Monday.

Kathryn Grayson is cast as a young concert singer who gives up her career to do musical work at her father's camp. She falls in love with the camp problem soldier (Gene Kelly) who is discontented with the infantry and wants to be in the Air Corps. Her father, John Boles, calls in his ex-wife, Mary Astor, to take Kathryn back to New York. They consult Gene's circus performer parents and all turn to teach Gene the lesson of cooperation.

"Phantom of Chinatown," starring Keye Luke, and "Escape to Danger," starring Eric Portman and Ann Dvorak, will share the bill Tuesday and Wednesday.

"Phantom of Chinatown" centers around the mysterious death of a famous archeologist, Doctor Benton, just as he is about to discover one of his discoveries made on a recent expedition to the Mongolian desert. Keye Luke is the detective who unravels the mystery.

In "Escape to Danger" Ann Dvorak is seen as an English school teacher caught in Denmark after the Nazi occupation. She dodges danger and Special Scotland Yard Investigator (Eric Portman) to Lisbon and England. There she is faced with the dilemma of betraying her friends in Denmark or facing a trial for treason.

Showing Thursday through Saturday will be "The Ox-Bow Incident," with Henry Fonda, Dana Andrews and Mary Beth Hughes, and "Law of the Jungle," starring Arline Judge.

The two-listed action in "The Ox-Bow Incident" begins when Henry Fonda and his partner get caught in the swirl of murderous mob fury in the town of Bridger's Wells. A rancher named Kinkaid has been reported slain. Because suspicion is directed at them, Fonda and his partner join the posse hunting for the killers.
